

SurveyDIG is an enterprise-level course evaluation and survey management solution designed specifically for higher education. It streamlines administrative workflows, ensures data consistency, and simplifies the user experience for students and faculty, ultimately driving integrated campus improvements.

Modules

Course Evaluation

SurveyDIG's course evaluation automates feedback to improve teaching quality and student outcomes. Anonymous data and real-time analytics empowers institutions to make data-driven decisions that enhance the overall learning experience.

Program Evaluation

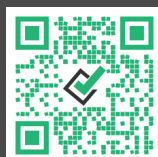

Optimize accreditation and program data collection with SurveyDIG. Automate campus-wide surveys, effortlessly import lists, and streamline institutional reporting through powerful, integrated information-gathering and data management tools.

Academic Advising

Empower academic advisors with a survey solution that delivers comprehensive student profiles and automated self-assessments. Seamlessly support guided pathways by providing deep, actionable insights to trusted advisors before every appointment.

SurveyDIG is designed to work with any student information system, CRM, ERP, or home-grown system. With hosting or SaaS options, our application provides a tightly coupled integration with your student information system.

Key Features

Targeted Surveys

By having integrated surveys with your student information system, you can target specific surveys to segments of your population based on any triggering event you can dream up.

Implementation

Switching systems can be a radical process change for institutions. We assist with every phase of implementation and configuration to deliver a complete turnkey solution.

Architecture

SurveyDIG is built on top of Oracle technology. It can run as a stand-alone application, integrated with your student information system, or hosted in our secure facilities.

Security

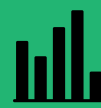

Enabling a single sign-on (SSO) with your security mechanisms and portal framework is the key to our integration. Users will not have to remember multiple passwords.

Integrations

Our integration is designed to work with any student information system, CRM, ERP, or home-grown system allowing tight integration with your student information system.

Reporting

Reporting is fully integrated into the security model, providing access to only those individuals that need the data. Reports can be accessed directly, pushed out automatically via email, or both.
